You don't have to wait for the party season to sparkle.

Putting on the Glitz

You don't have to count down the months until the Christmas party season to dazzle in embellished styles. Bling is on-trend in a big way with decorative detailing like sequins, jewels, and crystals being the order of the day.

"Embellishment has taken many forms this season, from craftwork inspired pieces at Chloe and delicate foil dresses at Prada, to Christopher Kane's sporty yet ribbon and jewel emblazoned body conscious dresses and full on crystal overload at Burberry," says Bonnie Rakhit, fashion editor at Elle Magazine.

"No matter what your personal style there is an embellished piece out there that will work for your individual look."
