Until recently, it was only the rich and famous who could afford treatments to rid themselves of their physical imperfections — but now anyone looking for that all-important Hollywood look without the hefty price tag need go no further than The Beauty Spot Cosmetic Clinic in Mansfield. The Woodhouse Road clinic is embracing the growing trend for cosmetic treatments and now offers a range of non-surgical procedures to banish embarrassing flaws which can destroy people's confidence.

Owner and manager Denise Akbani, who had previously worked as an NHS nurse for 20 years, set up the clinic in December 2005 with the aim of offering exclusive treatments to people in the Mansfield area. "Since we opened the clinic, we have introduced more therapies and taken on more specialist staff so we can offer people a range of options for many different problems," Denise told Profile.

The relaxed clinic provides a perfect setting for the procedures and clients feel instantly at ease, which is paramount in dealing with something as sensitive as someone's physical appearance. Says Denise: "We like to reassure clients that the procedure is safe with a minimum amount of discomfort. All of our staff have plenty of experience and this is important, for instance, when we are applying permanent make-up to sensitive areas such as the eyes because it is a tattoo."
